47 Persons are Killed in Series Of Plane Crashes

Mishaps Include That of High Altitude Experimental Jet

By United Press

A series of plane mishaps in this country and abroad, including the crash of a high altitude experimental jet plane in the eastern Nevada desert, has claimed a heavy toll of lives.

At least 47 persons were reported killed in the recent crashes, 40 of them in an airline disaster at Bage, Brazil.

The wreckage of an experimental Air Force jet, identified as a Lockheed U2, was sighted Sunday after a three-day search which covered thousands of square miles over a three-state area.

Lockheed officials said the highly secret jet crashed Thursday while on a flight to "test its adaptability for extended weather reconnaissance of interest to the National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics and the U. S. Air Force."

Bomber Off Course
Lockheed test pilot, Robert L. Seiker, Granada Hills, Calif., was killed in the crash.

At Bage, Brazil, a Varig Airlines plane crashed moments after takeoff Sunday killing 35 passengers and 5 crew members.

A six-jet B47 bomber, said by the Air Force to be "miles off course" slammed into a Hawaiian mountain top Sunday while making an instrument approach landing to Hickam Air Force Base, killing all four crew members.

The aircraft and crew of four were assigned to the 96th Bomb Wing at Altus, Okla., Air Force Base.

Convair Crash Averted
The bodies of an Independence, Mo., couple, missing since taking off in bad weather from St. Louis on March 31, were found Saturday.

Their single-engine light plane had crashed in a wheat field a few thousand feet from the end of a runway at the seldom-used Chillicothe, Mo., airport.

John Touhey and his wife Margaret, had been the objects of a wide search for the past week, until their charred bodies were found in the ruins of their plane.

The crash of a twin-engine Continental Airlines Convair was averted Sunday when the crew made emergency repairs to the plane's landing gear while the aircraft circled the field at Lubbock, Tex., for 45 minutes.

The plane was preparing to land when the landing gear jammed. The crew ripped up floorboards to make repairs and jammed a broomstick into the mechanism until a signal light indicated the gear was locked for landing.

The plane carried 39 passengers and 3 crew members.

First Girl Born In Family For More Than Century

CHICAGO (UP) — A girl was born in the Spellman family for the first time in more than a century.

Susan Elizabeth Spellman, 6½ pounds, was born Sunday to Mrs. Robert Spellman, Glenview, at St. Joseph's Hospital.

The Robert Spellmans have two boys and the father said that family records going back to 1852 show all male births until Susan was born.

Auto Injuries Fatal to Donald Thornsberry, 20

A 20-year-old Raleigh youth died today of auto injuries received early Friday morning.

Dead is Donald Thornsberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rainey Thornsberry. He died at 2 a. m. today in Ferrell hospital.

Young Thornsberry was injured about 12:30 a. m. Friday when the auto he was driving left the concrete pavement on the Eldorado-Raleigh road at the curve near No. 10 schoolhouse. It was reported that he was pinned by the car. He was driving alone, it was learned.

The youth, who went to high school in Eldorado, recently completed two years in the U. S. Army.

The body was taken to the Martin funeral home in Eldorado, where it will lie in state. The funeral will be at 2 p. m. Wednesday at Raleigh Baptist church with the Rev. Todd Taylor, church pastor, and the Rev. Delmar Feazel conducting the rites. Burial will be in Raleigh Masonic cemetery.

Besides his parents he is survived by a sister, Marilyn, and a grandfather, George Thornsberry, both of Raleigh.

Coroner James Thornton of Carrier Mills was investigating the accident today.

Catholic Women to Meet at Equality

A Day of Recollection for Catholic women will be held at St. Joseph's church in Equality tomorrow. Mass will be said at 10 a. m. The meeting is for the Eldorado Deanery and the speaker will be Father Brill of Madison, Wis.

Sharp Conflict

Hall Denies He Asked Beck's Support for Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Senate Rackets Committee scheduled a closed-door meeting today to decide what to do about a mysterious witness described as "even more recalcitrant than Dave Beck."

Simultaneously, a sharp conflict broke out over whether former Republican Chairman Leonard W. Hall asked Teamster President Beck's support for President Eisenhower's reelection campaign last year.

Arthur Condon, Beck's attorney, said Hall asked him about a month before the election to see if Beck would come out publicly for Eisenhower. Condon said he took it up with Beck who later endorsed the President.

Hall Denies Charge
Hall declared this "just isn't so." He said he recalled meeting with Condon, but didn't "recollect anything in the discussion concerning the campaign."

Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.), a member of the rackets committee investigating Beck, described the conflicting statements as "confusing verities." He said he knew nothing about it personally adding, "I doubt if either political party would select Dave Beck as its political advocate at the present moment."

There were these other week-end developments on the rackets issue:

—Robert B. Kennedy, chief committee counsel, questioned several persons in Chicago including Nathan W. Shefferman, labor consultant for business firms and friend of Beck, who testified before the rackets committee here.

Kennedy said his talk with Shefferman dealt mainly with "matters raised at committee hearings." He said the Chicago inquiry involves "management more than labor."

Reuther Pledges Fight
—Walter Reuther, vice president of the AFL-CIO and president of the United Auto Workers, urged jail for "crooked employers as well as dishonest labor leaders." Addressing his union's convention in Atlantic City, he pledged the auto workers will be 100 per cent behind the cleanup or corruption in both business and labor.

—Mundt said after Easter the Senate Rackets Committee will hold hearings on charges of illegal collusion by "dishonest management" and union leaders in the construction industry in New York City. He said they will involve charges of "acid throwing," "goon squads" and "skull crushing."

Five Drownings Since Start Of Heavy Rains

Big Muddy Rising At Slower Rate Near Murphysboro

By United Press

New flood threats and snowstorms hit Illinois Monday.

The rising Wabash River brought flood danger to the Mount Carmel area and the Ohio River surged close to flood stage at Cairo.

A snowstorm blew across a narrow belt of northern Illinois before a new snow storm entered the state from the west.

Five drownings occurred in Illinois since the heavy rains started early last week. Four were directly attributed to high water.

The fifth water fatality was Kenneth Gossage, 40, Macomb, who slipped from a bridge into the Lamoine River east of Macomb Sunday.

In neighboring Indiana, search was given up for the body of Geoffrey Armstrong, 21, Deerfield, who drowned when a canoe was swept over a dam in rain-swollen Wildcat Creek near Delphi.

At Mount Carmel, the Wabash River rose to 19 1/2 feet, 2 1/2 feet over the 17-foot flood stage. It rose a foot since Sunday.

The Wabash at Mount Carmel was expected to crest at between 22 and 24 feet Thursday. No evacuations were reported yet, although water spilled into lowlands. Police said the Mount Carmel power plant would have to be sand-bagged when the water reaches 22 feet.

Big Muddy Rising
An inch and a half of rain fell in the Cairo area, where the Ohio was a half foot below flood stage of 40 feet.

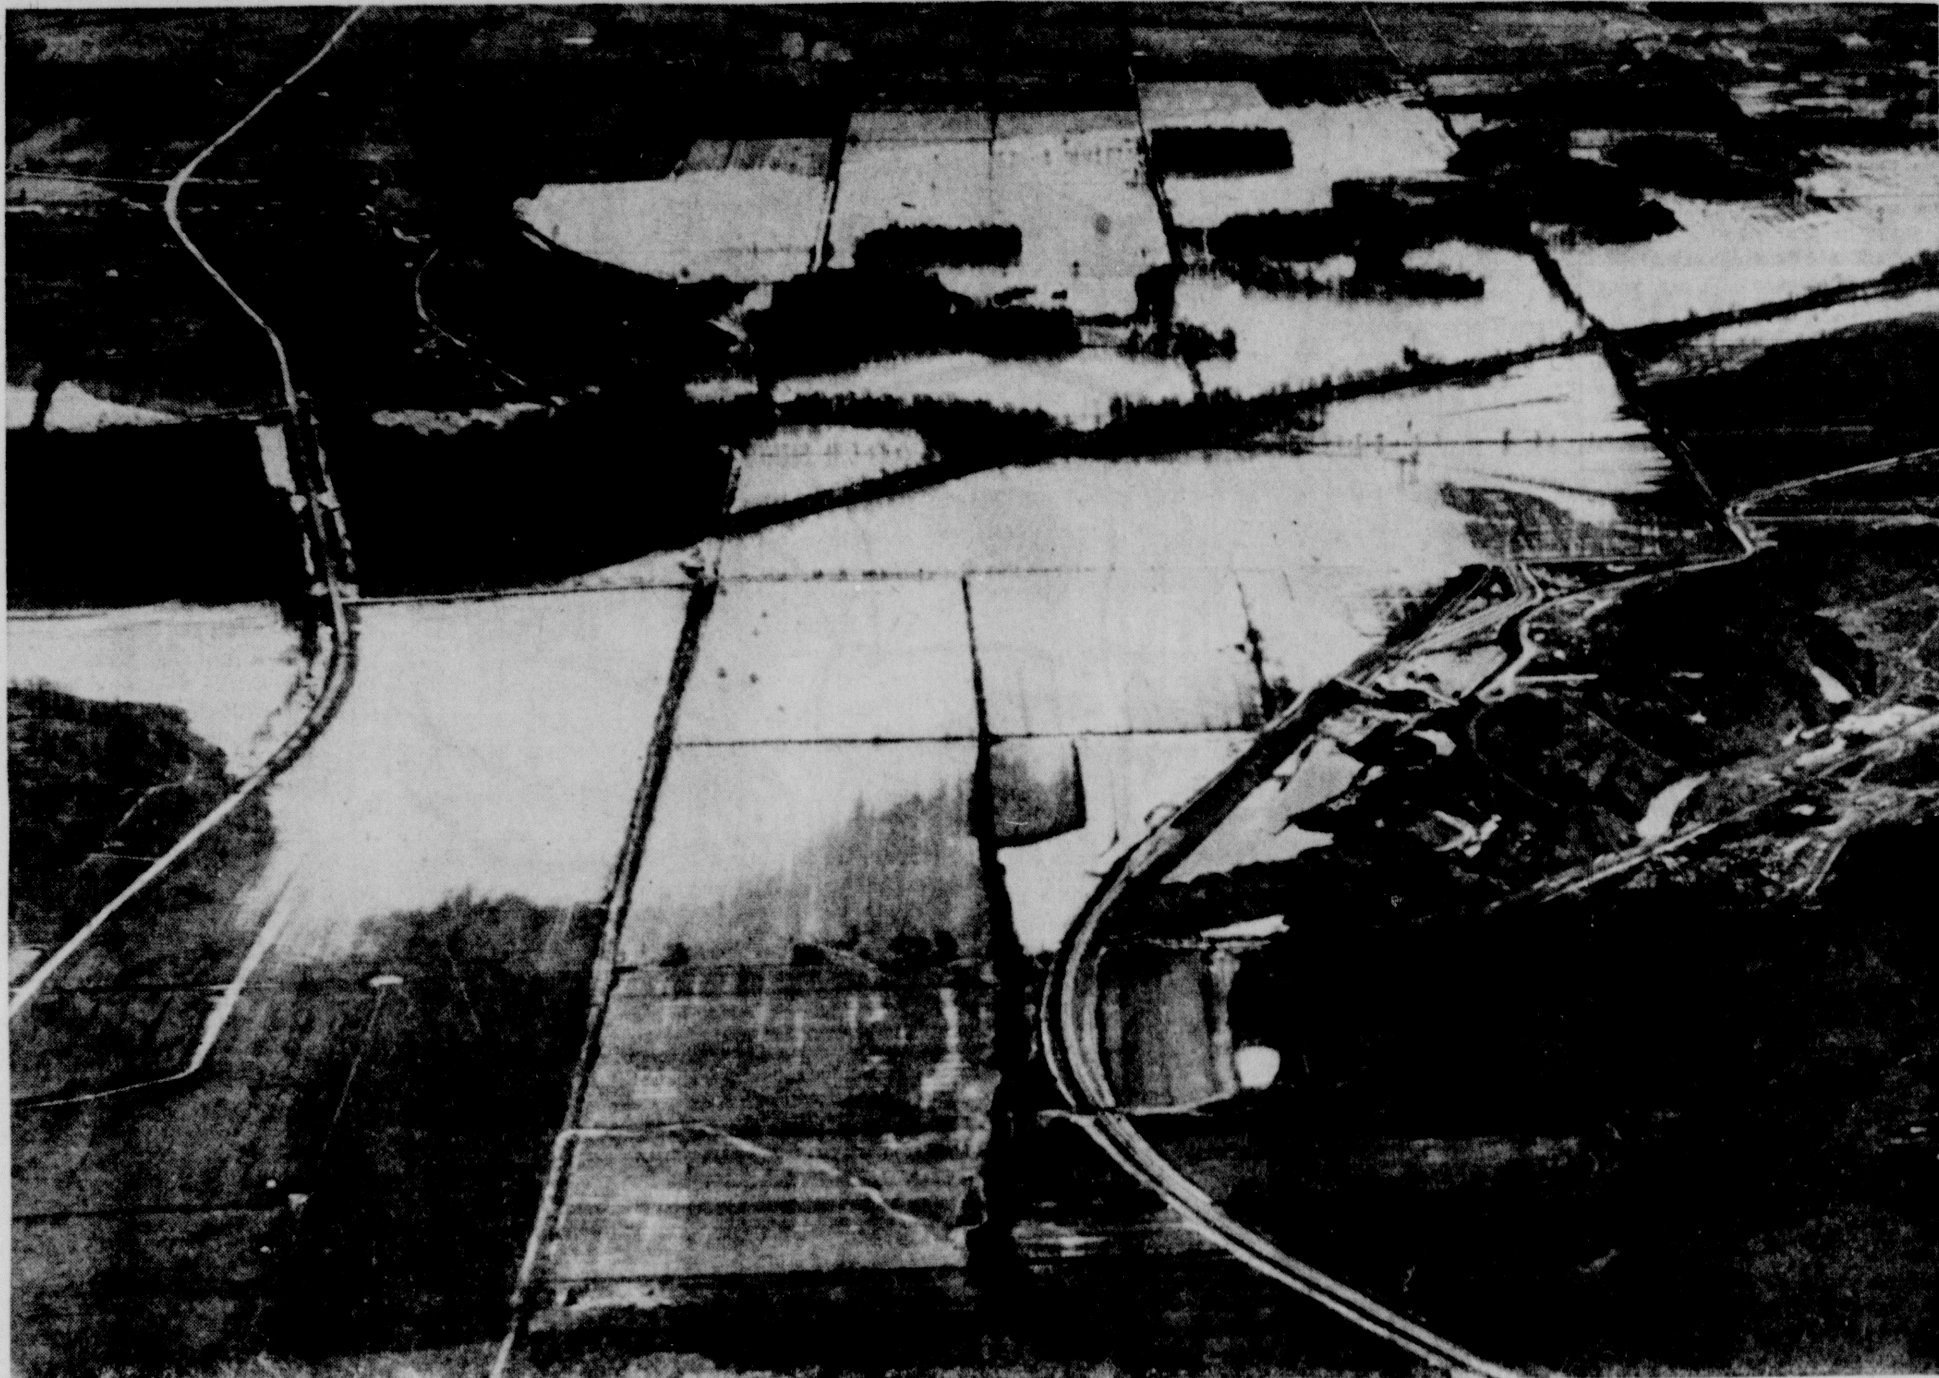

At Murphysboro, the Big Muddy River was reported still rising but at a very slow rate. Four inches of water on old Ill. 13 at Bridge Street in Murphysboro limited traffic to one-way.

One-way traffic also was reported on a road between Herrin and Freeman Spur.

An inch of rain fell in Marion Sunday night and several Illinois areas were hit by hail.

A narrow belt of wet snow swept across northern Illinois Sunday

SEIEC manager, took with him to Washington yesterday to give to Cong. Kenneth J. Gray, who will present them in behalf of the Saline River Drainage project proposal. At left is State Route 34 and to its right in the upper left area is Mitchellville. In the foreground to the right is the railroad spur leading to the Saxton

Pakistan Reports

Iran Bandit King Dead

Says Brother Admits Slaying American Woman

KARACHI, Pakistan (UP)—Pakistan government officials said Monday Iranian bandit king Dad Shah is dead. They also reported his brother Ahmed had confessed the murder of Mrs. Anita Carroll, an American whose husband and a companion were killed by the desert brigands.

The Pakistan Ministry of Interior said Ahmed, who was captured in Pakistan with his brother Mohammed, confessed he murdered Mrs. Carroll two weeks ago Sunday shortly after she was kidnapped by the gang that had killed the American men and two Iranian helpers.

Ahmed said Dad Shah was killed on April 3 in a clash with Iranian patrols. Earlier Dad was thought to have fled across the border ahead of the hundreds of Iranian state police.

Deputy Secretary of the Interior Hameeduddin Ahmad said Ahmed Shah confessed to slaying Mrs. Carroll during "rigid interrogation." But he said a report from Pakistani border patrol did not mention how the murder was committed.

The deputy secretary said 16 persons, including one of Dad Shah's wives, 3 young boys and 13 other women had been arrested on Saturday by Pakistani militia at Kaurchakate near the border.

Tehran reports earlier told of search parties finding the body of another wife of Dad Shah, apparently killed during the flight because she was pregnant and could not keep up with the rest of the bandits. Dad Shah was thought to have at least four wives.

Iran asked extradition of Ahmed and Mohammed and it was believed they would be taken to Blau-chistan army headquarters at Qash in southeastern Iran for trial.

Couple Hurt in Gallatin County

RIDGWAY, Ill.—Felix Foster, 53, is in Pearce hospital at Eldorado with possibly fractured ribs, brain concussion and severe cuts received when the auto he was driving crashed into a truck on a gravel road two miles east of here Sunday morning.

Mrs. Foster, 49, was riding with her husband and received bruises. She was released from the hospital after treatment. The Fosters reside seven miles north of here.

Mrs. Foster told hospital authorities the truck was traveling ahead of them and suddenly turned into a side road. Their car struck the truck which then proceeded on after stopping for a short time.

The name of the driver was not learned.

Graveside Service For Perkins Infant

Pattie Lynn Perkins, infant born to Mr. and Mrs. Willard Perkins in the Harrisburg hospital on Saturday, died at 4 p. m., yesterday. A graveside service was conducted by Rev. Evetts of the Saline Ridge church in the church cemetery at 10 a. m. today.

Middle Fork Again Rises Following 1.05 Inch Rainfall

Middle Fork creek began rising again this morning following more than an inch of rainfall during last night.

Harrison Kibler reported last night's precipitation up to 7 a. m. today as 1.05 inch. He said the flood protection works pumps were resumed at 1:30 a. m. today to throw the water from inside the flood wall to the outside.

The Middle Fork gauge reading was 16.62 this morning, a fall of 1.02 feet in 24 hours, but had started to rise again as a result of last night's rain. High reading was 22.32 Saturday.

13 Traffic Deaths in State

By United Press

Traffic accidents took 13 lives on Illinois highways during the weekend. They included:

Four members of a Rockdale family were killed Saturday night when their truck was struck by a train at a crossing near Joliet. The victims were Robert Reed, 51, and three of his children, Mary, 17, Francis, 15, and Bernard, 12.

Lois Butler, Olmstead, died Saturday as a result of injuries she received in a car-truck crash near Cairo.

A Chicago service station attendant died Sunday in a freak accident on Chicago's outer drive. Otis Jones, 48, was carrying a five-gallon can of gasoline to a stranded motorist when he was struck by a passing car.

The impact caused the gasoline to explode, showering over Jones and turning him into a human torch. Passing drivers beat out the flames with blankets but Jones died a short time later.

Teddy Nadler Increases Television Quiz Prize Winnings to $152,000

NEW YORK (UP)—Teddy Nadler, a $70-a-week government clerk, increased his take-home prize to $152,000 Sunday night to become the largest money winner on a single television quiz program.

Nadler, a civil service employee at the Army's depot in St. Louis, Mo., won $32,000 when he defeated Mrs. Lowell Thomas Jr., world traveler and explorer, in a geography category on "The $64,000 Challenge."

He had won $120,000 since his first appearance in August, 1956, by downing experts in the fields of ancient, European and modern history, music, baseball and anthropology.

Nadler's phenomenal photographic memory failed him only once.

New Snowstorm Buries Western Areas; Rains in Ohio Valley

By United Press

A third spring snowstorm in as many weeks buried the storm-battered Rockies and Western Plains states today under as much as a foot of drifting snow.

Another finger of snow pushed into the East from the Great Lakes to New York state. Five inches of snow were reported at Erie, Pa.

The western storm eased up over Colorado, Wyoming and Nebraska, but clearing skies sent the mercury plunging to record low readings near the zero mark.

Laramie Shivers
Denver, Colo., recorded one of its coldest spring nights in history with an early morning reading of 10. The previous low for the date was 11, and the all-time low for this time of year was 8 degrees.

Other low readings included 3 degrees at Laramie, Wyo., 8 at Cheyenne, 4 at Fort Collins, Colo., 5 at Colorado Springs, and 16 at Pueblo, Colo. Temperatures of zero or lower occurred in the higher elevations.

The storm swept into Kansas and the Texas and Oklahoma panhandles during the night after dumping an average of one foot of new snow in much of Colorado, Wyoming and Nebraska. Leadville, Colo., with 36 inches of snow on the ground, had the heaviest accumulation.

More Snow Due
Heavy rains soaked eastern sections of Kansas and Oklahoma northeastward to the Great Lakes region, with one-quarter to one-half inch reported in a six-hour period during the night.

Weathermen warned the rain will turn to snow today in most of Oklahoma and Missouri while considerable blowing snow is expected in the Central Plains.

Showers and thunderstorms also are seen for the Ohio Valley, where many streams flooded in recent heavy rains. Flood waters receded in Missouri, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and North Carolina.

Sheriff Reports Farm Burglaries

Sheriff William T. Barrett today reported burglaries on two farms near each other about five miles south of Carrier Mills.

The report to the sheriff and the investigation was made over the week-end although the burglaries occurred previously.

Barrett said burglars went to the Frank Harris farm while Mr. Harris was staying with a daughter at Crab Orchard. Breaking a lock and going into a garage and storage building, they stole an outboard motor.

They broke a window to get into the house, where they took a .38 caliber pistol and two fishing rods and reels.

About a quarter of a mile away burglars entered the house on what is known as the Henry Lightfoot farm. The house is used by a group of fox hunters who have it rented as a recreation center.

There they kicked out a front door glass and stole a television set belonging to Harry Tanner.

Only Minor Changes In Vote Canvass

Canvass of last Tuesday's township election results showed only a couple of very minor changes over the unofficial totals available Tuesday night. Town Clerk Zola Young said today.

The canvass was made Saturday.

She said that William Douglas received 1,769 instead of 1,770 for Republican assistant supervisor and that Bill Hull received 1,755 instead of 1,757 for Democratic constable. All other totals were the same as the unofficial count.

The Weather

Mighty Short Memories

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

A good many capital observers are declaring these days that President Eisenhower's leadership over the members of Congress is faltering and they are going their own way.

They say he isn't assertive enough in promoting his program, that he doesn't crack the whip on Capitol Hill, that his steep budget has cost him popular support and that, in any event, he is a "lam duck" who can't run for re-election in 1960.

Consequently, they add, the lawmakers are following their traditional course under such circumstances. They are falling into factions and allowing themselves to be pressed heavily by local and regional rather than national concerns.

It is said, too, that when they climb a platform anywhere in the land they seldom nowadays bother to mention Mr. Eisenhower's name, having concluded there is no further political magic in it for them.

This could be a risky route to travel. To begin with, the newest public opinion polls show that the President's popularity only slightly below recent record high levels.

Secondly, the lawmakers might remember that neither the Republican nor the Democratic rank and file candidates won much of an endorsement at the polls in 1956 or earlier elections.

Mr. Eisenhower was the only one for whom there was great and widespread enthusiasm.

Those who think this enthusiasm has now waned do not appear to offer much striking evidence.
If they cut themselves adrift from the President, even though he is a "lam duck," they may be doing more harm than good to their future political chances.

The record indicates that Mr.
Eisenhower was not an "assertive" leader in his first term, in the sense that he bossed Congress around and snapped the whip.
Whatever the historians and other detached observers may conclude about his leadership, the fact remains that on the basis of his record he was re-elected last fall by a margin of 9,500,000 votes.

Since the voters did not shower any such heavy rain of votes upon the senators and representatives who faced them, one might imagine some at least would have doubts about the wisdom of cutting ties to him.

The President, in the view of most, won re-election as a man people trust. But it isn't easy to separate a man and his program.
Just possibly, voters may expect Congress to support him on this whether or not he exercises strong initiative. Surely the wiser heads before considering him to political limbo.

It's There to See

The Egyptians might ponder a lesson readily available to them in South America.

From time to time in places around the earth there has been a peculiar fascination with the idea of dictatorship.

The feeling seems to be: "Put the strong man in, and all will be made right."

The Egyptians have one now.
But let them look at Argentina, lately the strutting ground of Juan Peron, who finally was chased after years of domineering rule.

Argentina's finance minister tells his people that at the present rate of economic decline their country will be broke by the year's end. President Aramburu, blaming Peron's costly misrule, says only austerity and hard work can stave off disaster.

That is what the people inherit in the wake of dictators. Cairo

"We've Got to Cut Till It Hurts—You"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
New Texas Senator Had Most
Of Texas Press Against Him; Congressman Has Conflict Of Interest; Texas Negroes Did Vote In Block For GOP.

WASHINGTON. — At 4:30 the other morning I was faithfully following Secretary Wilson's advice "to do what's right and you'll sleep well with yourself," when jubilant Texans began calling me to announce the sweeping victory of Ralph Yarborough for the U. S.
Senate.

"All the newspapers in Dallas, Fort Worth and San Antonio were against Yarborough," reported the Texans, "plus most of the other newspapers. Yet a liberal Democrat beat a field of 19 candidates.
"It's like the sales meeting of the dogfood company," explained Bill Kittrell of Dallas.

"The sales manager said:
"We've got the best publicity in the world. All the newspapers are for us. We've got the best advertising in the world. And we've got the best sales force in the world. Yet we're not selling dogfood. What's the matter?"

"A small voice piped up in the rear of the room. 'I'll tell you what the trouble is,' he said. 'The dogs don't like it.'"

"That," concluded Kittrell, "was the trouble with the Republicans and the Shivers Democrats. They had all the newspapers in Texas, all the money, all the publicity, and all the advertising. But the people didn't like 'em."

CONGRESSIONAL CONFLICT OF INTEREST

While Congress is investigating conflicts of interest, some of its own members have been caught in shocking conflicts that would have caused an administration official to be fired. Latest example is Arkansas' affable Congressman Oren Harris, who bought a quarter interest in a television station at the same time he passes on television legislation.

What's more, he paid $5,000 for 25 per cent of KRBB-TV at El Dorado, Ark., which is probably the year's biggest television bargain.
He couldn't have done better on one of TV's top quiz shows.

Of course, Harris happens to be chairman of the powerful House Commerce committee which not only handles all television legislation, but also has power over the Federal Communications Commission. In fact, he personally presides over the communication subcommittee which deals directly with TV matters.

This means the FCC, which regulates TV stations, must come to Harris for legislative favors. To put the agency even more under his thumb, he recently formed a special subcommittee to investigate the FCC.

Obviously, Harris would be a terrific asset for any television station. The FCC would think twice about turning down a request from a station partly owned by him.

This may explain how he was able to buy one-fourth of KRBB-TV at such a remarkably low price.
FCC records show the station's
"net capitalization" is $150,000.
One-fourth of $150,000 is considerably more than Harris' $5,000 purchase price.

The records also show that the station cost an estimated $110,000 to build.

Significantly, Congressman Harris is now pushing an application to increase KRBB's power from 24,000 to 316,000 watts, which will make the station worth over $350,- 000.

KRBB-TV is the only television station in south Arkansas and has its choice of network programs.
It can be picked up by 325,000 sets, which gives it an estimated viewing audience of 800,000. In other words, Harris is buying into a valuable piece of property for his trifling $5,000.

Dr. Joe Rushton, KRBB-TV
president, explained to this column that the station is still in debt, so Harris' bargain is not as big as it appears. He offered Harris a quarter interest because they are boyhood friends, he said, and because Harris helped get the station started.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Before the Texas election, Liz Carpenter of the Houston Post tried to query every Texas in Congress regarding his vote for senator. All "pleaded the 5th amendment" — no comment — or else couldn't be located. Actually most of them voted against their own colleague, Congressman Martin Dies and for Yarborough.
Many would have voted for Judge Jim Hart, former chancellor of the University of Texas, if they'd thought he had a chance. . . . Republican leaders were banking on 250,000 registered Negroes voting Republican in Texas. If they had voted in block Thad Hutcheson, GOP candidate, would have won. But leading Negro papers came out for Hart, and the Negroes split their vote. . . . Leaders say that never has the House farm bloc been so badly split since the recent defeat of corn farmer subsidies. Midwest Republicans, furious at New England, southern congressmen for dumping the corn subsidy, are threatening to hit back by voting for lower tariffs on foreign textiles under the proposed general agreement on tariffs and trade.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Behold I am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whither thou goest.—Gen. 28:15.

Prayerful people have been detoured from Journeys that ended fatally.

so much like a twig that it is all but invisible against a tree.

Nearly $175,000 Pledged to Wesley Foundation Building

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Nearly $175,000 in cash and pledges was reported today as raised toward a goal of $200,000 for a new Wesley Foundation building adjacent to the campus of Southern Illinois University. Over $58,000 in cash has already been collected.

The Rev. Ronald Seibert, Foundation director, said accelerated reports from the building Crusade workers in local Southern Illinois Methodist churches and a special gift of $47,000 have given the building fund campaign a real boost. First reports still are to come in from some of the more than 200 pastoral charges in the Southern Illinois Conference of the Methodist Church where the building fund campaign is underway, he said. Many have not yet completed their local campaign.

"We hope that workers in the local pastoral charges will have the job completed before April 18," Seibert said. "We are confident that the goal will be reached and we can start construction on the new Wesley Foundation building this spring."

A foundation-owned dwelling that has been in use is totally inadequate to serve the spiritual, social, and religious education needs for the 1,000 Methodist students attending Southern Illinois University, Seibert says. The proposed new building will include religious education classrooms, library and recreational facilities, counseling rooms, administrative offices, student lounge, and a chapel.

MRS. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT ENDORSES AMAZING NEW HEARING INVENTION

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has now joined other prominent Americans and people from all walks of life in praising a revolutionary new hearing device called "The Listener." "It certainly heralds a new day for the hard of hearing," said Mrs. Roosevelt recently.

Continuing, she added: "If people only knew what a revelation and a joy The LISTENER is, they would not wait for a moment to hesitate to wear one. This is the first hearing aid that exactly fits my needs. I didn't realize a hearing aid could be as good as this."

So widespread is the interest in this remarkable new electronic hearing achievement, the makers have prepared an illustrated booklet giving full details.

With the OTARION-LISTENER you hear at three times the distance of any of its imitators.

Mrs. Ruby Marshall and J. L. Abney Married Friday

Announcement was made today of the wedding of Mrs. Ruby Marshall, Cairo, and John L. Abney, Harrisburg.

They were married at McKinley Avenue Baptist church parsonage Friday at 7 p. m. by the Rev. J. L. McCarty. In attendance were Mr. and Mrs. William Gholson, Harrisburg friends of the couple. Rev. McCarty performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a navy ensemble with matching accessories and a bridal corsage of sweetpeas.

They are at home at 917 West Poplar street, where Mr. Abney has for several years operated Abbie's Barbecue.

Miss Donna Sue Butterworth and Carl Gene Teal Exchange Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gene Teal

Miss Donna Sue Butterworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Butterworth of RFD 3, and Carl Gene Teal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Teal of Stonefort, exchanged marriage vows at the Spring Valley Social Brethren church at eight o'clock on the evening of March 27. Rev. Carl Downey performed the double ring ceremony.

Miss Butterworth wore a ballerina-length white lace wedding gown, styled with the bodice dipped both front and back, and having long pointed sleeves. The skirt was fashioned of three tiers of scalloped net. She carried a white Bible and a bridal bouquet of white feathered chrysanthemums, and wore a finger-tip-length bridal veil.

Miss Dorrice Butterworth, cousin of the bride, served as her bridesmaid and wore a lace-covered, aquamarine-colored sheath gown accented by a bow of aquamarine satin with streamers, at the back waistline.

Morris Teal, cousin of the bridegroom, acted as his best man. William Hankins and Bertis Reynolds were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue crepe dress, trimmed with white lace cuffs and collar, navy accessories and a corsage of white gladioli.

The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue dress under a navy blue duster and navy shoes. Her hat and gloves were white and her corsage was of white gladioli. Betty Gribble sang, "True Love" and the "Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the piano by her sister, Ruby Gribble.

The church altar was covered with white sheeting edged with greenery, framed with candelabras holding tall white tapers, and with baskets of white gladioli.

Mr. Teal is a graduate of the Crab Orchard high school and is employed as a machinist at Carmac mine.

Donna Sue is a graduate of the Harrisburg Township high school and was formerly employed as an operator with the telephone company in Harrisburg.

Following the ceremony the guests were invited to attend a reception at the home of the bride's parents where a tiered wedding cake was cut by the newlyweds. Hostesses for the reception were Mrs. Gale Travelstead and Miss Armita Blue.

Mr. and Mrs. Teal left immediately following the reception for a trip through Kentucky and Tennessee which included the Lookout mountain country around Chattanooga, Tenn.

They are now at home to their friends in their home near Crab Orchard.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Davis Return From California

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd R. Davis, 205 Rose street, have recently returned from California, where they visited with their sons, Charles R. Davis of San Diego, and Howard L. Davis of La Mesa, and their families.

The family group crossed into Tijuana, Mexico, and were amused with the little sidewalk shops of that city. While in San Diego county they visited the world's largest observatory at Mt. Palomar, high above the clouds.

Other points of interest to them were Knott's berry farm and the ghost town near Anaheim, Calif., the San Diego zoo, the oldest San Diego mission, De Acela, and the old Spanish mission in Presidio park. They visited the old Spanish lighthouse and joined the many whale watchers there.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis had motored to San Diego with Charles Davis and his family and returned by train.

D. A. R. Meeting Tonight With Mrs. D. A. Lehman

The Michael Hillegas chapter of the D. A. R. will meet at 7:30 p. m. today in the home of Mrs. D. A. Lehman with Mrs. Bernard Moore, Mrs. Dora Capel and Mrs. Carl Hauptmann assisting. There will be a regular business meeting with reports of chapter officers, chairmen and a report from the state convention held in Chicago. Officers for the coming year will be elected and installed. The program for the meeting will be presented by Mrs. Hauptmann and the subject is "Study American Music."

Eldorado Woman Hostess Former Alton Classmates

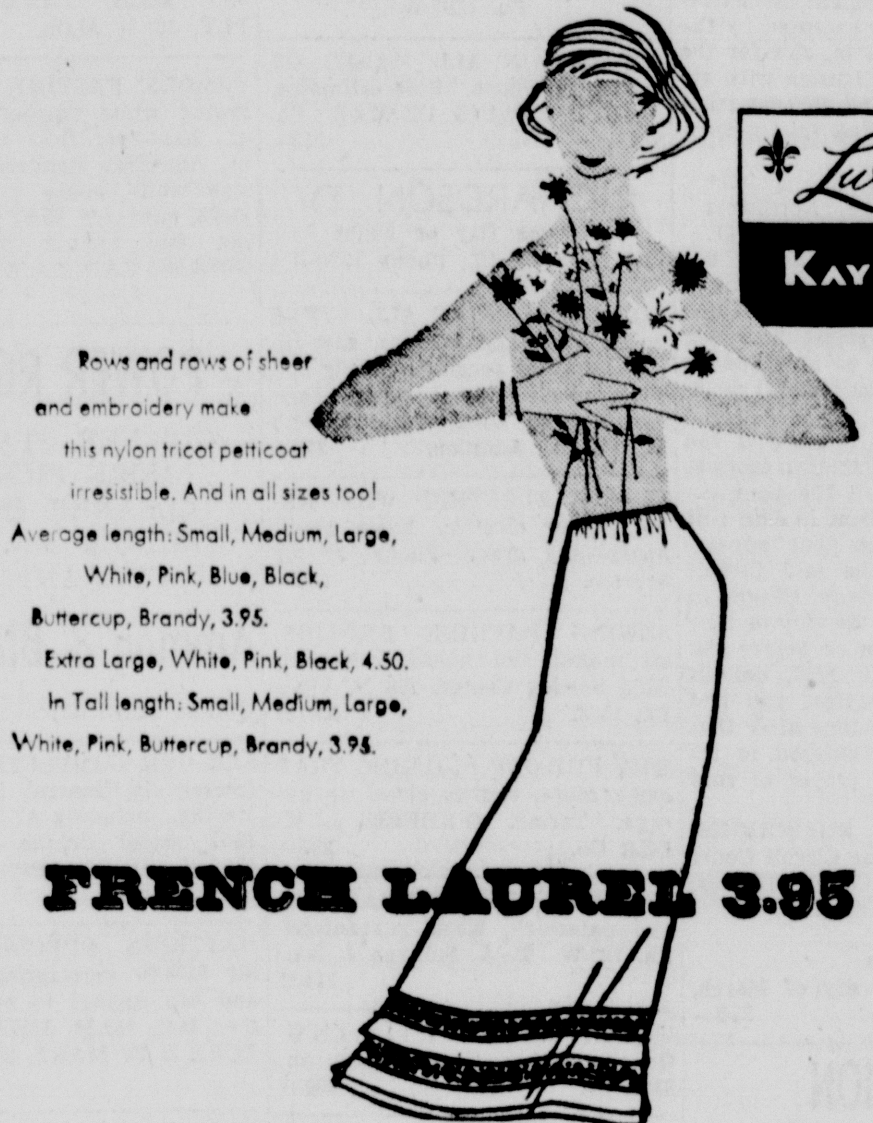

Mrs. Iva Irene Marsh and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Claypool of East Alton were Friday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Trousdale of Eldorado.

Mrs. Marsh and Mrs. Claypool were classmates of Mrs. Trousdale at Brown's business college of Alton and all were graduated in the class.

Miss Alice Mount, Mrs. William Stain, Mrs. E. C. Johnson, Mrs. Capitola Mellon, and Miss Mary Richardson, who are members of the Senior unit of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist church, attended the eleventh annual Wesleyan Service Guild meeting of the Southern Illinois Conference Sunday afternoon, held in the Methodist church in Shattuc. Miss Mildred Anne Paine, director of Ai Kei Gakuen, Tokyo, Japan, was the speaker. Miss Paine has been on leave and is returning very soon to Japan to continue her work. Her work has been one of the projects supported by Wesleyan Service Guilds for many years. Mrs. Jesse Burley accompanied the local women to Shattuc where she visited friends.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Farrar Return from Tolono

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Farrar returned Saturday from Tolono, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Tom O'Beirne. On Wednesday they attended the annual dinner for the board of directors of the McKinley Foundation in Champaign, and in the afternoon Mr. Farrar attended the 34th annual meeting of the board of directors of the foundation. This year the Presbyterians in Illinois are celebrating the 50th anniversary of the McKinley Foundation and also the 15th anniversary of the director of the foundation, Dr. James R. Hine, who preached his first sermon in McKinley church on Feb. 22, 1942, is being observed.

Mr. and Mrs. Farrar stopped at Enfield on their return trip to visit the grave of Miss Augusta Swan.

Eisenhower's Driver Heeds All Traffic Signs

WASHINGTON — President and Mrs. Eisenhower rode back to the White House Sunday night from their Gettysburg Pa., farm with their driver carefully heeding every traffic sign.

The President delayed leaving the farm until 6:15 p. m. in order to watch on television the completion of the Masters golf tournament at Augusta, Ga.

Before leaving the farm, the President got in a few practice shots on his private putting green. Eisenhower followed the tour-nament closely by TV and radio throughout the week end.

The President made the 83-mile return trip to Washington in two hours and 15 minutes. He returned via the regular route through Rockville, Md., where reporters were flagged down last week end for speeding while trying to keep up with the President's car.

That trip was made to Gettysburg in an hour and 45 minutes. Sunday, Eisenhower's driver was under posted speed limits all the way and didn't run any red lights.

Stratton to Present State's First $2 Billion Budget Tuesday

By RAYMOND R. COFFEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
SPRINGFIELD — Gov. William G. Stratton Tuesday will present the first two-billion-dollar budget in Illinois history—thanks in part to the new federal highway program.

And thanks in part to booming business conditions and to everyone who spends money, the record-high budget will be possible. Stratton says, without a sales tax increase.

Best guess on the size of the budget the governor will present to the Legislature is about $2,140,000,000. But it must be remembered this includes both state and federal funds.

The governor's budget for 1955-57 was about $1,710,000,000, but the Legislature increased this by about 25 million dollars.

In the coming two-year budget period, Illinois will get about 300 million dollars more in federal highway funds than it did in the current budget period. This alone would be enough to put the budget over the two-billion-dollar mark when it is figured in addition to the last budget.

Room Leaves Surplus

But there also will be substantial increases in state money in the new budget for state aid to schools, the public welfare program and state colleges and universities, and about 10 to 12 million dollars for pay raises for state employees.

However, Stratton will not recommend any great increase for the public aid program.

A big factor in Stratton being able to push his budget past the two-billion-dollar mark without a tax increase is the business boom, which has left a flat surplus, about 60 million dollars, in the state's general revenue fund over the past two years.

People have had money and have been spending it with the result that sales tax and use tax collections have been greater than expected—great enough to create the big surplus which had been expected to be only about seven million dollars.

The Supreme Court decision upholding the use tax provided another 30 million dollars that wasn't available for the last budget.

The biggest slash in Stratton's budget proposals is expected to come in the 367-million-dollar appropriation request of the Public Aid Commission for relief programs.

The governor is expected to slice about 50 million dollars from the request, leaving the public aid program with about the same amount of money it cost over the past two years, or about 315 million dollars.

More for Welfare?

Stratton is expected to recommend an increase of from 25 to 40 million dollars in state aid to schools, which for the current budget period totaled about 201 million dollars. The governor's recommended increase, thus, would be somewhat smaller than the additional 50 million dollars asked by the School Problems Commission.

The school aid increase would be aimed at maintaining the state-local spending level at $200 per pupil per year.

Stratton has indicated his budget recommendations for public welfare may hold a big surprise—possibly a larger increase for the operation of mental institutions than is expected. The increase is expected to fall somewhere between the 125 million dollars the Welfare Department got for the current budget period and the 170 million dollars it has requested in the new budget.

The University of Illinois will get an increase of about 18 million dollars, from 85 million in the present budget to about 103 million in the new budget for operating expenses.

Smaller increases also are expected for Southern Illinois University and the four state teachers colleges.

The proposed 75-million-dollar Korean veterans bonus and 238-million-dollar bond issue for construction at state welfare institutions, colleges and universities will not be included in the new budget, since they would be subject to referendum in 1958 and would not become effective until 1959.

IN THE Service

A-2c Donald Lee Ledbetter, A.P. 17434219, Box 1022, 5001 Field main, Sqd., APO 731, Seattle, Wash., son of Mrs. Leota Groves Jr. of 18 West Baker, would like to hear from his friends and asks that the change of address be noted.

Extra Funds Will Expand Rural Library Services

CARBONDALE, Ill.—Some $40,000 in federal funds and $82,828 in state funds will be available this fiscal year to the Illinois State Library and rural communities to help improve library services in rural areas, according to Lafayette Reid, assistant Illinois State Librarian, who spoke at the public librarians conference, Wednesday, April 3, in the Southern Illinois University Library.

Librarians and library trustees from 12 Southern Illinois communities attended the conference, which was sponsored by the SIU Library. The SIU Library was selected recently to have an area advisory role in the program authorized by the Federal Library Services Act. Also participating in the conference were the SIU community development department and the staff of the Illinois State Library at Springfield. SIU's community development service will work with the SIU Library and a regional librarian to be employed by SIU under funds allotted through the State Library.

Ralph E. McCoy, director of the SIU Library, outlined possible methods of extending library services to Southern Illinois rural communities with little or no library facilities. His suggestions included:

1. An existing tax-supported public library could accept contracts for service from rural sections, or one rural small town could contract for service from another town.

2. A sizeable collection from the State Library at Springfield could be put in this area to supplement the existing collection.

3. Counties could get together to form district libraries to cover a whole community. In such counties bookmobiles and deposit services could further extend library facilities to outlying areas.

"Pressure will not come from SIU for this project but from the communities themselves," emphasized McCoy.

Following luncheon in the cafeteria, conference members toured the new Carbondale public library.

Those attending the conference included Mrs. Mary Jane Rice and Miss Hazel Sunday from the Harrisburg public library.

First governor of Illinois was Shadrach Bond, son of a farmer on whose farm a blockhouse was built during the War of 1812.

Calendar Of Meetings

The Alpha circle of the First Presbyterian church will meet Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Hudson Mudge, 314 West Church.

Delta Theta Tau will meet at the public library on Monday at 7:30 p. m.

The High School unit of the Home Bureau will meet in the home of Mrs. Finley Johnson, 1001 South Jackson, Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

The Past Noble Grand club of the Pride of Arrow lodge will meet in the home of Mrs. Ray Johnson of 215 Ford street, at 7:30 p. m. today.

The Evergreen Garden club will hold its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry Horning on Tuesday at 2 p. m. Members will please note the change of meeting place.

The W.C.T.U. radio program will be presented at 7:45 p. m. today over WEBQ.

There will be a stated meeting of Galatia IOOF lodge No. 433 Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. All members are urged to attend and visitors are welcome.

The Busy Women's bible class of the First Methodist church will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in Wesley Center for the monthly social meeting.

There will be a jitney supper at the Dorris Heights school beginning at 5 p. m. Tuesday. The supper is sponsored by the North Wilford Baptist church.

Births

Mrs. Beulah Parks and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smothers announce the birth of a grandson, born to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smothers of Joliet. Mrs. Smothers is the former Donna Kay Reynolds of Muddy. The baby boy, born April 2, at Joliet, has been named Steven Eugene.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lee Pankey of RFD 2, Carrier Mills, are the parents of a boy born at the Harrisburg hospital this morning, weighing seven pounds and 12 ounces.

THE CHANNEL 'SWIM Sid Caesar May Lose Saturday Night NBC Spot

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — The channel swim . . .

Sid Caesar seems to have lost his Saturday night spot on NBC TV for next fall. The tentative NBC-TV schedule for next season lists "Panic" and the new Gisele MacKenzie series in Caesar's slot. "Arthur Murray Party," presently assigned to a Tuesday spot on NBC-TV, will take over Caesar's hour for the summer.

CBS-TV has decided to launch its new Gary Cooper western series on Jan. 1—it will step into the Wednesday night period presently held by the 20th Century-Fox Hour.

ABC-TV is whipping up a new sports series, "Championship Golf," which will be beamed from Chicago on Saturday afternoons. It will feature such stars as Sammy Sneed and Porky Oliver in filmed matches.

"Mike Wallace Interviews," which kicks off on ABC-TV April 28, is trying to land Sen. Joseph McCarthy as its first guest.

The A. C. Nielsen Co., which takes TV surveys, reports that the average TV family watched 14,560 commercials last year.

Robert Strom, the 10-year-old phenom of "The $64,000 Question," has a pinball machine in his room at home. He can't be beaten on it—he has it fixed.

CBS-TV's "Cinderella" suffered a catastrophic blow the day of the show—all four of the white rats who played white mice used in the coach and horses scene escaped from their cage a few hours before air time. Stagehands finally rounded up the fugitive quartet under the scenery.

All 18 of the diamond stars that will appear on NBC-TV's "Salute to Baseball" will receive color TV sets—they'll donate the 18 sets to hospitals around the country.

Sen. Case Urges Quick Action on Major Legislation

WASHINGTON — Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.) today warned that quick action is needed on school aid, civil rights and refugee bills to "avoid last minute legislating and the threat of filibustering."

He called on Senate leaders to push action on the measures, none of which have been passed yet before the Senate.

He pointed out that with Easter recess approaching Congress has completed almost half its present session.

Case noted that the "Senate committee which has jurisdiction over the school legislation has not yet held hearings on the bill and no hearings have been scheduled." He said Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) had expressed hope that a vote might be taken on a civil rights bill before the Easter recess.

Eden Begins Series Of Medical Tests

BOSTON (U.P.) — Sir Anthony Eden began a series of medical tests today in a new attempt to heal the abdominal ailment which forced an end to his political career three months ago.

The former British prime minister arrived by plane Sunday from New Zealand. His post-retirement vacation there had been cut short by recurrence of fevers apparently caused by a digestive ailment for which he has twice undergone surgery.

Social Studies Teachers to Meet Here Tonight

The annual meeting of the Southern Illinois Council for social studies, will be held at Junior high school here tonight at 7:30 when 100 teachers from grades and high school of southern Illinois will be present.

Harrisburg teachers will be in charge of the program and their social studies practices will be illustrated with demonstrations by the pupils from lower grades.

Norman Moore, superintendent of Carbondale grade schools, and formerly of Equality, is president of the council and he will preside.

H. B. Bauman will be present from the high school to explain the program of service to high school students and to freshmen particularly.

A panel of six social studies teachers from Junior high will discuss the program there. They are: Stobart Abney, Alma Downen, Martha Dixon, Mrs. Lola Locke, Mary Jelliffe and Jack Yates.

From grades 4, 5 and 6, will be Donald Darnell, McKinley school, and from the primary department, Miss Alice Jarrell from Horace Mann school.

Flood Endangers Mt. Carmel Area

and during the night, building up to eight inches at Goshen, Ind.

Sheriff Merle Wilmoth at Watseka reported the fast-moving storm dumped from five to six inches of snow in Iroquois, Vermillion and Edgar counties.

As the northern snow ended, a new snowstorm cut into the state from the west.

Rains Hit South

At dawn, Springfield had an inch of rain on the ground.

The new storm was moving east northeast across Illinois and the Weather Bureau said two to four inches of snow may accumulate.

Light rains dotted southern Illinois again Monday.

Drownings last week included a 4 and a 5-year-old boy and two brothers Saturday night.

Bert Gibson, 26, drowned Saturday night in the backwaters of the Big Muddy river when he stepped from a boat into deep water. His brother, Joseph Gibson, 29, drowned trying to rescue him.

At Murphysboro, the Big Muddy River forced at least 10 families from their homes in the northeast section of the town. It was out of its banks more than 10 feet and lapped over old Ill. 13 Monday.

The Big Muddy, however, was inching upward at a slower clip, and sheriff's police said there was no immediate prospect of any more evacuations.

City officials built scaffolding Saturday to help one elderly man from his home, but it was not necessary to press boats into service.

Thousands of dollars of damage was caused by the Big Muddy which flooded some 8,000 acres of cropland in southwest Jackson County and northwest Union County. Jackson County was hit by its heaviest rains in 18 years.

The rising waters also threatened Missouri Pacific Railroad tracks at Grimsby, seven miles south of Murphysboro.

At Mount Carmel, the Wabash River was more than a foot above flood stage and still rising.

It was expected to crest at about 22 feet next Thursday, some five feet above flood stage.

The Wabash rose more than a foot Saturday night but authorities said no one was driven from their homes by the rampaging waters. There was no general evacuation plan in effect, however.

In the Vandalia area, streams feeding the Kaskaskia River left their banks, flooding some 1,000 acres of farmland. The water, however, was reported to be receding Monday.

Some lowlands flood after 40 feet in the Cairo area, but the city itself is in no danger until the river reaches about 58 feet. There was little concern at Cairo, where water was at a higher level last month than currently.

Authorities in the flooded areas were checking country roads to determine if any families had been isolated.

All main highways were clear, however. Police at West Frankfort said several families who had to leave their homes earlier because of the rising Middle Fork Creek had returned.

Neal Shaw, 50, of Carrier Mills Dies At Veterans Hospital

Neal Shaw, 50, of East Furlong street in Carrier Mills, died at the Veterans hospital in Marion at 12:25 p. m. yesterday. He was a concrete finisher and construction worker and well known throughout the community.

Death occurred following a nine day period in the veterans hospital and prior to that he had been in the Harrisburg hospital for about a week with a heart ailment.

The body lies in state at the Thornton funeral home in Carrier Mills awaiting word from a sister in California.

Queen, Prince Receive Warm French Welcome

PARIS — Queen Elizabeth arrived today to begin an April-in-Paris visit that inspired the warmest welcome the French have given any royal figure since they guillotined their own Queen Marie Antoinette.

The Queen and her husband, Prince Philip, flew in from London. They found all Paris decked in Britain's national colors.

A huge Union Jack flew from the Eiffel Tower, dominating the sunlit city. Smaller British flags fluttered from every city bus, and bunting in the British colors festooned lampposts and store fronts.

Elizabeth is the first reigning British queen who has visited France in 102 years.

The royal couple drove directly from the airport to the Elysee Palace, official residence of President Rene Coty, to sample the first of some 3,000 bottles of champagne set aside for the royal visit.

Hundreds of policemen lined the route from the airport to the palace as a precaution against possible violence by the Communists—the only sizeable group in France which was not delighted by the Queen's visit.

The government has spent $500,000 on preparations for the royal tour, and private enterprise has spent uncounted thousands more.

The headline on today's Paris-Press was the single English word "Welcome!" The same greeting expanded in some cases to "Welcome to the Queen!" appeared in hundreds of shop windows.

Not even the Communists expressed opposition to the Queen's visit. Today's edition of the Red organ Humanite limited its criticism to a sour comment that the British monarch will confer with Gen. Lauris Norstad, American commander of Allied forces in Europe, during her stay.

Princeton, Ill., Man Pleads Innocent to Bank Robbery Charge

CHICAGO — Howard J. Hansen, 38, Princeton, Ill., pleaded innocent Monday in Federal District Court on charges of robbing the National Bank of Triumph, Ill.

Hansen, arrested by FBI agents March 25, deferred a plea on charges of robbing a Poplar Grove, Ill., bank when he appeared before U. S. Judge William J. Campbell.

Hansen is awaiting grand jury disposition of bank robbery charges on holdups of the Farmer's State Bank of Danforth, Ill.; the Peewaukee State Bank of Brookfield, Wis., and the Lodi State Bank, Lodi, Wis.

He was indicted for the Poplar Grove and Triumph robberies on April 3.

Clinton County Sheriff Killed in Highway Collision

CARLYLE, Ill. — Clinton County Sheriff Dan Parker, 55, was killed Monday when his police car speeding to answer an emergency call collided with another car.

Injured in the wreck were Dale Quick, deputy sheriff who was driving the car, and James Rohling of near Carlyle, driver of the second vehicle.

Authorities said Parker died instantly of a broken neck in the wreck on U. S. 50 east of the small community of Breese.

Parker and Quick were en route to set up a road block in response to a call from Carlyle City police, who were pursuing a man in a car believed to have been stolen.

Police here said the man bought gasoline in nearby Greenville and drove off without paying for it. They spotted the suspect, but he outdistanced their police car.

Police radioed Parker and state police from East St. Louis in an effort to ring the area with road blocks and trap the suspect.

Dairy Farmers Seek to Handle Own Surplus

CHICAGO — Representatives of dairy farmers in 20 states Monday embarked on a "do-it-yourself" campaign to establish a guaranteed set price on merchandised milk, and to get the federal government out of the surplus dairy produce business.

The newly formed National Dairyman's Assn., which hopes to count more than half of the nation's dairy farmers in its ranks, ended an organizational convention Saturday night by agreeing to:

—Establish one national "floor" on the price of merchandised milk. Milk used for butter, cheese, etc. Other milk is called Fluid milk.

—Turn down federal parity; setting up in its stead an association-run central purchasing agency, which would use member assessments to buy up surplus milk to be sold in the world markets.

Karl Kaap, chairman of the National Farm Organization's dairyman's committee said, "We hope this will guide other types of farmers into solving their own problems, rather than sitting back and hoping the federal government will step in and end the trouble for them."

The NDA's official policy statement said its chief aim was "to undertake to do for ourselves what government has attempted but failed to do with great expense to the general taxpayer."

Not Bluffing

Summerfield 'Very Confident' He Will Receive Extra Postal Funds

WASHINGTON — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield feels "very confident" that Congress will meet his demands for an extra 47 million dollars to head off drastic cuts in postal services.

He said he is not "bluffing" about his order sent to post offices across the country to begin cutting down on mail deliveries and to keep their windows closed on Saturdays, beginning April 13.

Summerfield said on a television program Sunday he has been assured that if the House acts on his request this week, the Senate Appropriations Committee and the full Senate are set to move swiftly on it.

The postal chief said he would not settle for any less than his full request for 47 million dollars.

He threatened the cuts after a House Appropriations subcommittee last week cut his request to 17 million dollars. But he postponed them for a week — they were to have gone into effect last Saturday—after the full committee agreed to take up the matter next Friday.

Summerfield said the present crisis was brought on because the appropriations committee failed to act in time. He said he had told Congress in January that his department needed 53 million dollars to tide it over until July 1 because of mountain mail demands.

He was reminded that the Budget Bureau did not pass along his request until mid-March. He replied that the bureau had a "little too much hope" that postal expenses would drop and that it delayed longer than he wanted.

The Associated Third Class Mail Users have threatened to seek court action to stop the ban against third class mail which consists chiefly of books, advertising circulars and bulk mail.

Summerfield said, however, that his department "would resist" such a suit because, "we think they are not on sound grounds."

He also said that public reaction was generally favorable to overall rate increases rather than cutbacks in any mail services. The American people, he said, want to see the postal system on a "pay-as-you-go" basis.

Prince Aly Khan Called to Bedside Of Ailing Father

NICE, France (U.P.) — The Aga Khan, 80-year-old spiritual leader of the Ismaili Moslems, is so ill that Prince Aly Khan has been called to his bedside, it was disclosed Monday.

There were reports the Aga's granddaughter Princess Yasmin was being called from the United States because of his worsening condition. Yasmin is the daughter of Aly and actress Rita Hayworth.

The Aga Khan, one of the world's richest men, has been in failing health for months. Reports last week said he was suffering from "fatigue." Sources close to the family said he also is battling a fever caused by chronic bronchitis and is unable to walk without assistance.

CONSTIPATED? New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H stimulate it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONOID's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Rites at Raleigh for Mrs. Emma Basham

The funeral of Mrs. Emma Basham, 70, who died Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ben Sisk, was held at the Raleigh Baptist church at 2 p. m. today. The Rev. Howard Todd Taylor officiated and burial was in the Raleigh Masonic cemetery. The body was in the care of the Turner funeral home and remained there until time for the funeral.

SIU Sports Briefs

CARBONDALE, Ill.—Biggest hit of the year for Norby Vogel, Southern Illinois University senior outfielder from Valmeyer, didn't come on the baseball field.

It occurred in the form of an eight-pound baby girl born March 20 while Vogel and the SIU baseball team were on a spring tour in Louisiana. Norby and his wife, Marlene, have named the new arrival, Susan. They have one other child.

CARBONDALE, Ill.—The classified ad department of newspapers have gained a new convert—Southern Illinois University baseball coach Glenn (Abe) Martin.

Martin lost his suitcase containing more than $100 worth of clothes when it bounced out of a trailer the night the SIU baseball team returned to Carbondale from its spring trip.

The coach inserted an ad in the local paper, and promptly received a call from another SIU faculty member, Victor Randolph, who had found the bag on the highway at the south outskirts of Carbondale.

CARBONDALE, Ill.—The recent state high school basketball tournament not only had a "Southern Illinois" atmosphere, but also a "Southern Illinois University" flavor.

Coaching staffs of the eight state finalists had six SIU graduates: Leodio Cabutti, head coach, Campaign high school; Bob Franks, assistant coach, Galesburg high school; June Gross, assistant coach, Ottawa high school; and Les McCollum, Glenn Whittenberg, and Bob Hutchison, assistant coaches at the title-winning Herrin high school.

One of the announcers at the state meet was another SIU grad, Ralph Davidson, head football, basketball, and track coach at Benton high school.

Greatest railway mileage in the world is that of the United States, which has 223,400 miles.

Hawks, Celtics Deadlocked

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (U.P.)—The St. Louis Hawks and the Boston Celtics were deadlocked today after two week ends and four games in their best of seven series for the National Basketball Association championship.

Boston's Bob Cousy, Bill Sharman and their teammates squared matters at Kiel Auditorium here Sunday night with a 123-118 decision that disappointed a partisan crowd of 10,035 fans. It was the second Boston victory in the series and it came on the heels of St. Louis victory Saturday night, 100-98 via Bob Pettit's 30-foot jump shot with 44 seconds to play.

The teams split their two games here just as they did the two opening games a week previous in Boston. They will play game No. 5 in Boston Tuesday night and return here for the sixth on Thursday night.

Carrier Mills Freshman Girl Elected to Area Student Council Office

Miss Lorna Dallas, freshman in the Carrier Mills Community high school, is the newly elected secretary-treasurer of Area 1 Student Council.

Miss Dallas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Dallas of Carrier Mills, was elected to the office at the area meeting held at the Harrisburg Township high school April 2.

According to historians, no known portrait of Christopher Columbus was made during his lifetime.

Yankees Strike New Gold Mine in Tony Kubek; Drives In Winning Run in 10th

By United Press
Then that has gets, meaning the talent-loaded Yankees apparently have struck another baseball gold mine in 20-year-old Tony Kubek.

Kubek isn't even on the Yankee roster but that little oversight will be taken care of within the next few days.

If there was any doubt about his status, the six-foot, three-inch outfielder thoroughly dispelled it Sunday with a two-out, 10th inning single that drove in the winning run in a 3-2 victory over the Red Sox.

Kubek's 10th inning single put a sad ending to the Red Sox exhibition season at Sarasota, Fla. Mike Higgins' crew have now dropped seven straight and they rank last among all 16 big league clubs in the Grapefruit Circuit with only six victories in 20 games.

Three For Colavito
Outfielder Rocky Colavito put on quite a show at Dallas when he rocketed three home runs over the wall to lead the Indians to an 8-7 decision over the Giants. His third homer of the day came in the ninth with one on off reliever John McCall. Al Smith also homered on three Giants pitchers. Hank Sauer and Daryl Spencer connected for the losers.

The Pittsburgh Pirates rolled to their fourth straight victory and seventh in their last eight games by beating the Kansas City Athletics, 6-4, at Fort Myers, Fla. Lee Walls homered for the Pirates, but it was Gene Freese's two-run double in the seventh that drove in the deciding runs. Vern Law went the route for Pittsburgh, allowing 11 hits.

Charley Maxwell smashed a three-run double and also singled to boost his spring batting average to .476 in pacing the Tigers to a 5-4 victory over the Phillies. The Phils threw a scare into the Tigers when Ted Kazanski hit a three-run homer in the ninth off Jim Bunning, but Bill Tuttle colared pinch hitter Frank Baumholtz' drive to end the game. Jim Hearn was the loser.

Milwaukee edged Brooklyn, 4-3, at Fort Worth, Tex., with the aid of a freak play in the ninth. Homers Beat Senators

Elmer Valo's ninth inning single hit base runner Don Zimmer and prevented the tying and winning runs from crossing the plate.

Doug Ford Turns On Pressure to Win Masters; Snead is Second

AUGUSTA, Ga. (U.P.)—Doug Ford, a golfer from the sidewalks of New York who saw his first green on the top of a pool table, broke the stranglehold today that the big time titlists have held on the Masters tournament since Bobby Jones founded it in 1934.

The swarthy kid from 87th St. and Broadway picked up 87 hundred bucks Sunday for his first big win since he took the PGA title in 1955.

But more important than what it meant to Ford, his victory apparently signaled at last the coming-of-age for a new generation in big time golf. He decisively outstarred Sam Snead, who had won the Masters three times and played the first three days this year as if he owned it.

Old Guard Falters
Ben Hogan, a two-time winner and strong favorite, didn't even make the qualifying 40 when the field of 100 was cut after the second day. Neither did Cary Middlecoff, an early favorite.

Ford shot a final 66, touring the pressure-packed back nine in 32 for a total six under par, and when Snead, approaching 45, heard about that, he let youth take over. Ford is 10 years younger.

Sammy did settle down somewhat to score a par 72 and a 286 total. That put him three strokes behind Ford's 283, but was still good enough for second place. It was the third time that a 283 had been good enough to win the tournament for which the record is Ben Hogan's historic 274, 14 under, in 1953.

Ford's important recent victories were in the Los Angeles and Panama Opens. They helped him amass more than $14,000 before the Masters as he played in all but two tournaments on the winter stretch. His victory here blasted the belief that a current low scorer who plays every tournament on the circuit cannot win the Masters against the likes of Snead and Hogan who aim for this tourney as a special target.

Ford didn't have to do as well as he did. Many in the gallery of more than 20,000 got their money's worth when he came out of a bunker on the 18th with a sand-flecked ball that bounced in the cup. It was a championship shot.

In third place behind Snead was Jimmy Demaret, only previous three-time Masters champion besides Sammy, with 287. Amateur Harvie Ward of San Francisco finished with an even par 288.

BUFFALO GRASS

By Frank Gruber

XXIX

Harlow Tarbox and Alfred Buffington went to call on Chad Morgan. They found him alone in the real-estate office, reading a book on agriculture. His salesman was out, showing some property to a potential buyer.

"Morgan," said Tarbox, "neither Alf nor I know how you're going to take this. As your oldest friends in Pawnee City, we hope you'll agree to what we're about to propose to you." He drew a deep breath. "We want you to be our next mayor!"

Morgan closed his book, put it down on the desk and looked from Buffington to Tarbox, then back to Buffington. "What about Joe?"

"He's not going to run." "You decided that for him?" "If you want to put it that way."

"I see," Morgan drew a deep breath. "I think both of you know me well enough by now to know that it isn't a job I want and I know that you're ready with a lot of arguments... it's my duty, et cetera."

"It is," declared Buffington. "I know it is," admitted Morgan. "I'm one of the founders of this town and I will never get over the feeling of responsibility. I have a pretty fair idea that this isn't going to make me awfully popular with some of the people in this town, but"—he shrugged—"it can't be helped, I'll take the job."

"Chad," exclaimed Tarbox, "all I can say is... thanks."

Morgan made a wry face. "This may be the last word of thanks I'll get from anyone." He got to his feet. "What about our fine judge? Do I get him?"

"No," said Buffington.

"Good!"

"He's going to the legislature," blurted out Tarbox. "He kind of squirmed into that, but he may be all right in that job. He's got friends at the capital and—he'll be out of your hair."

"A lawyer named Carmichael hung up his shingle a few weeks ago," suggested Buffington. "I know. I sold him his office. I think he'll be an improvement over Drake."

That same afternoon Pete Mossman rode into Pawnee City. He had with him his towheaded trail boss, Brog, and a round dozen of Texans.

The cowboys visited The Longhorn Saloon, had a drink or two apiece, then wandered about town. They were strictly under wraps, having been given explicit instructions by their employer, Pete Mossman, not to cut loose.

Not until the herd was sold, the money in Pete Mossman's saddlebags. Then the men were on their own.

Wild Jack Mason sought out Joe Jagger, at the Drovers Hotel. "Pete Mossman's in town."

"I know it." "He's brought with him 12-15 men. I've been hearing it all around town; they've got a grudge against this town. What am I supposed to do against that many men?"

"Mason," said Jagger, "I'm through trying to run this town."

"But you're the mayor," protested Wild Jack.

"Not any more. My time's up in a few weeks, but I'm not sticking out my neck any more. You go talk to that blather-mouthed newspaper publisher, Fesler. He wants to run this town. You can tell him for me to go ahead. I'm quitting right now."

passing Helen Jagger coming in. She turned to look after him then frowning, came toward Jagger. "Is it true, Joe?" she asked worriedly. "About you—and Chad?" "Me and Chad?" exclaimed Jagger. "What are you talking about?"

"A silly report that you had been—that you weren't going to run for re-election as mayor and that Chad was taking over."

"Morgan!" cried Jagger aghast. "Who told you that?" "Mrs. Fesler said it was all arranged. I didn't know whether to believe it or not."

"Chad Morgan," said Jagger dully. "So he's beaten me again!" "I don't believe it. Chad has no personal ambitions, not of that nature. He doesn't want to be mayor."

"I'll tell you just this much. For old times' sake. For his sake. Tell him to get out of town and stay out for the next day or two. Pete Mossman's men are gunning for him and, as of just about this moment, there's no city marshal to protect him. Wild Jack's quit his job. And so have I."
